RENTED HIS HOUSE? SURE

Judge H. L. Preston had a house for rent and, of course, advertised in the classified columns of The Republican Press. Forthwith came renters and immediately the house was leased to a desirable tenant. Instances of this kind happen every week because of wide circulation. The paper that carries the classified ads is the newspaper the people read.

Justices Co-operating With Game Wardens Nicely

TO STOP THE ABUSES

Extermination Sure If Tightening Up Does Not Cure Evil

Coast game wardens have been busy during the exceptionally low abalone tides. Five arrests were made for undersized abalones and five guilty verdicts were given in court.

Paid $25 Fine.

A. J. McMurdo and Harry V. Oliver were both arrested, charged with having undersized abalones and were fined $25 each by Judge Walker of Elk.

Cost Them $50.

Roy V. Meyer of Oakland paid $50 for having 12 undersized abalones. He appeared before Judge Lermond of Mendocino. Joseph E. Neuerburg of Roseville paid $50—to Judge Lermond of Mendocino.

Albion Man Hit.

Rolf Stromer and Fred Shandel of Albion had undersized abalones in their possession, pleaded guilty and were fined $25 each.

Got Stiff Jolt.

Alfred Murray of Fort Bragg, who has been arrested by Game Warden Holmes four times for fish and game violations, was arrested again last Friday. Mr. Murray had a total of 67 abalones and pleaded guilty to possession before Judge W. W. Ware. His fine was as follows: $100 and 90 days in the county jail; $50 of the fine was suspended, as was the jail sentence. He was put on probation for six months. The terms of his probation were that if he violated any fish and game law he would have to pay the entire $100 fine and serve the 90 days in jail, in addition to any penalty for violating his probation.

RICHMOND IS LOSER SUNDAY

Talmage Takes Visitors Into Camp By 6-3 Score

This present Talmage Club can now be ranked with the best playing semi-pro baseball in northern California as it defeated one of the very fastest teams, from reports of the San Francisco sport writers, Sunday.

Started Well, Anyway.

The visitors made three runs and five hits in the first two innings but after that they were blanked. The score was 6 to 3. Next Sunday there will be no game at Talmage as the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta will lure practically everyone from this section over the Memorial day weekend holiday.

John L. McNab Had Bad Mishap

Word from San Francisco is John L. McNab who was injured on Admiralty Island, southeastern Alaska, when he stepped on a nail, had a close call. Mr. McNab got off the Island by airplane and, luckily, was able to catch a boat quickly. At Juneau Mr. McNab was given emergency treatment and got surgical aid at Seattle from which city he was accompanied to San Francisco by a trained nurse.

TRACTOR HEAT CAUSED BARN TO BE BURNED

Cremation Of Rancher Averted When A Drum Explodes

SUFFERS A BIG LOSS

Gus Sindt Lies Wrapped In Bandages At Howard Hospital

In drawing gasoline from a drum into a smaller container Gus Sindt, Little Lake Valley rancher, almost lost his life last week.

How It Happened.

In some unknown manner while the withdrawal of gasoline was in process an explosion took place. Mr. Sindt was planting Sudan grass and drove the tractor up to the barn to fill the gas tank. In a few moments after the explosion the whole barn was aflame. The building was completely destroyed, along with numerous farming implements, including a threshing machine belonging to Alex. Hellesoe, and considerable seed grain. Amos Branscomb, son-in-law of Mr. Sindt, happened to be only a short distance from the barn when the accident happened and he assisted in saving some of the seed grain and helping the injured man.

Aid Came Quickly.

It was a spectacular fire and could be seen from any point in the valley. Several crews from the CCC camp arrived in a short time and the line crew of the Power Company, under Fred Holland, also came quickly, but the fire was so hot practically nothing could be done toward saving the property. There was no insurance and the loss will be at least $2000.

Is In Hospital.

Mr. Sindt was taken to Howard Memorial Hospital, Willits, where he now is, swathed in bandages almost like a mummy. His recovery is certain, unless complications develop.

LOTHARIO IS GIVEN CHANCE

Hopland Boy Who Allegedly Stole To Marry Paroled

Dante Pardini, 22-year-old Hopland youth who went "wool gathering" to augment his income for his prospective wedding, was released Friday on probation of five years, his only punishment being deferred payments of $5 per month for 12 months to reimburse the county for the expense of his arrest and trial.

Took Small Amounts.

The youth confessed to the theft of three batches of wool. On April 28 he took 51 pounds from the barn of Mrs. Mary Murray near Cloverdale. This he sold to Ben Meyers of Santa Rosa for 37 cents a pound. His second offense was taking 122 pounds from the J. C. Johnson ranch building south of Hopland. Unable to sell this wool in Santa Rosa, it was brought to Ukiah and sold to Guy Redwine for 26 cents a pound.

Made An Error.

When arrested by Santa Rosa officers May 6, Mr. Pardini had a sack of wool tags and dead wool he had taken from the Johnson ranch, mistaking the "take" for high grade wool.

Made Restitution.

Friends of the boy arranged payments of $18.87 to Mrs. Murray and $43.92 to Mr. Redwine and the wool taken from Mr. Johnson was returned to him.

Many At Hearing.

The hearing on the petition for probation was attended by quite a number of people from the Hopland section where the boy had been employed by the N. W. P. during the past year. His bride was among those present.

PLAN BETTER RURAL PHONES

To increase the value of telephone service to all users in Ukiah as well as that of their rural neighbors, J. G. Zeibak of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is interviewing those in rural areas, such as Redwood Valley, Calpella and other outlying districts, to plan a more efficient means of telephone communication with them than is enjoyed at present. Mr. Zeibak arrived from Martinez Monday to co-operate with A. H. Hurlock, local telephone manager, in securing this added benefit to his patrons and will remain here to see the project through.

UKIAH SCHOOLS ENJOY HOLIDAY

With Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta celebrations taking place for a number of days to come and Memorial Day to be observed Monday, it has been decided to grant grammar school children a four-day holiday over the weekend with classes cancelled Friday and Monday. Because one day was lost to the high school student body this year due to high water, school will not be dismissed Friday, but a holiday has been declared for Monday. Merchants of Ukiah will also close their places of business for the day, according to E. J. James, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

TO VISIT MOTHER

Miss Jane Poma and Miss Mary Poma will arrive from San Francisco the last of the week to pass the holiday with their mother Mrs. John Poma at the home of their sister, Mrs. F. Bricarelli.

HE RAN UPON REPTILE PAIR

Marvin Ford Found Rattlesnakes Are Plentiful

E. M. Ford is one of the county's veteran fishermen and hunters and has had a lot of experiences of various kinds, but, on Saturday last, he ran into one he will long recall.

Snake On Instep.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford and son, Elmer, went to Elledge creek to fish. The car was stopped in the road and Mrs. Ford went to the rear of the car to get a can out of the luggage carrier. As she did so a rattlesnake ran across her instep. The snake was killed and was found to have eight rattles.

Mate Came Back.

Fishing was started and about noon Elmer Ford went to the car and, on turning toward a table that had been put up, heard the rattle of a snake. Seeing the reptile he killed it. The snake had five rattles. Evidently it was the mate of the snake killed a few hours earlier.

GREAT TREAT IS AVAILABLE

City Visit Should Include Seeing The Geary Film

The power of Rudyard Kipling's saga of the sea, "Captains Courageous," now playing, on a road schedule, at the Geary Theatre, San Francisco, for a limited run, attains its greatest force in this tensely dramatic picture which has been supplied by the producers Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, through the medium of every resource at their command.

Truly A Great Film.

It is a picture that tugs at the heartstrings in such a manner as does no other screen vehicle in recent years. The locale supplied for the enactment of the story and its splendid players all combine to make "Captains Courageous" a film presentation that one cannot well fail to see.

Action Is Continuous.

Those who have read the book will easily realize that fact. It is crammed full of action from the very first and as it is unreeled the spectator is fairly held spellbound. Freddie Bartholomew is the boy who is swept from the deck of a liner and from the moments that transpire after this there is no let up in the action.

Cast Has Three Stars.

One of the outstanding characterizations is that brought out by Spencer Tracy, who plays Manuel. His is an altogether great performance. Lionel Barrymore is the skipper of the schooner "We're Here." There are other characterizations that are equally great. Altogether "Captains Courageous" is a truly wonderful picture. During its Geary Theatre engagement the picture will be screened daily at a matinee and evening performances will be given once daily at 8:30. A visit to San Francisco will be incomplete without seeing this great attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Messick and their daughters, Marjorie, Mary and Geraldine, will leave Saturday for a hurried trip south to Fresno, Hanford and Kettleman Hills, and plan to return in time to see some of the opening of the Golden Gate span observances.

PRACTICE FOR BRIDGE FIESTA

Frank P. Doyle (right) director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, and treasurer of the Redwood Empire Association is shown practicing the cutting of the chain, which will break the barrier of the Golden Gate Bridge on May 28. Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco, who will also participate in the chain-cutting ceremony, is an interested spectator. The chain will be cut in three lengths by Doyle, Mayor Rossi and William P. Filmer, president of the bridge district, as a feature of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta.

DECORATE

Every standard should be flying in front of business houses throughout the days the Fiesta is on in San Francisco. Every house flag, too, should be flown.

The Oregon Cavalcade of 250 cars will stop in Willits and Ukiah today for lunch. The number of cars is too large to try and care for in one town and not delay the march. Last evening the Redwood Empire Cavalcade halted here. The Washington Cavalcade will be in this evening, also, but will stop only a short time. Ten automobile ferries have been chartered to carry the Oregonians across the Bay tonight.

Keep State Street Open.

Local residents are advised police have been instructed to prohibit parking of cars on State street while the Cavalcades are passing through. Police and Boy Scouts will handle traffic on State street.

Our Parade Spot.

Mendocino county's entries in the gala parades of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta Thursday and Saturday mornings and evenings will be preceded and followed by cowboys and cowgirls in colorful western riding garb mounted on dashing cow ponies.

The County Float.

The Hopland high school band will tunefully make its way down the avenue between throngs of spectators on either side and just ahead of the Mendocino county float. This large and beautiful exhibit will have a frame of rhododendrons at its base while terraces rise into a background of redwoods and carry a lovely Indian group and personifications of out-of-door sports, smiled upon so benignly by this country and climate. Ukiah's entry is lovely, golden-haired Connie Hurlock who will make a stunning golf figure. Other attractive portrayals will be made by Della Cardy, of Anderson Valley in hunting togs, Millie Morgan of Willits angling in a trout filled stream, Rosalyn Fonville of Fort Bragg as a pretty sailor lass, and Edith Swanson of Mendocino City ready to enjoy a plunge. Dorothy Wilsey of Covelo, an Indian girl, and Mrs. George Miller of Ukiah will artistically picture the Mendocino Indians.

All three young ladies made an active canvass. San Francisco headquarters announced Miss Dutton won over her two opponents, and gave this standing:

SOUTH FOUND VERY ACTIVE

Prosperity Abounds About Los Angeles, Ukiahans Assert

S. H. McCabe and C. N. Mortensen are home from Hollywood and a 10-day trip which took them to several points of interest in the south where both visited relatives. Mr. McCabe arrived in Ukiah Saturday evening by stage, having left "Morty" at Oakland to attend a Masonic meeting.

South Is Prosperous.

At Hollywood Mr. McCabe visited his brother Henry, a former resident of Ukiah, whom he had not seen for years. He found his brother extremely busy with building operations for which he had contracted, and the entire southern part of the state in the midst of a boom period and apparently enjoying the favors of Mother Nature, with agricultural conditions far in advance of the northern portion of the state and the ranges lush with vegetation. Double-header passenger trains of 12 to 14 coaches loaded with passengers were common.

FIESTA CROWD WILL EXCEED MILLION MARK

40,000 SAILORS COME

Elaborate Entertainment Perfected By The Committee

Plans were practically complete today for the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta, spectacular celebration of the completion and opening of the $35,000,000 suspension highway across the Gate, which begins officially tomorrow, Thursday, May 27, Pedestrian Day, and continues to a brilliant climax on Wednesday, June 2.

Million Will Celebrate.

Biggest, most brilliant and most colorful show in the history of California or the west, will be the Fiesta, which is certain to attract to San Francisco and the Bay district a multitude of not less than a million. That is the forecast of Fiesta Chairman Arthur M. Brown, Jr., and Fiesta Manager Eric Cullenward, supported by the latest reports of chairmen of various committees engaged upon the Fiesta preparations.

What You Will See.

What is in store for Fiesta visitors and participants is a full week of thrilling, inspiring and beautiful spectacles in a city gayer and more festively arrayed than it ever has been for any celebration. The biggest and most spectacular steel structure ever built by man will be, and will remain, the most striking feature.

Entire Fleet There.

Other great spectacles of the Fiesta will include assembly in San Francisco Bay, after entry

ROADS BEING PUT IN SHAPE

Covelo And Ft. Bragg Highways Difficult To Take Care Of

(The Willits News)

Supervisor Duane Bittenbender reports splendid progress is being made on the new Biggar highway. The road is now open for travel beyond Bloody Run and Mr. Bittenbender states he hopes to have it open all the way through early in June. There were many slides on this road, which was new construction last year and it has been a big job to get them all cleared up.

Getting Road In Shape.

Work on the Fort Bragg road is still going on. The road has been gone over once this spring and a crew will go over it again during the next few days, grading off the rough spots before the surface dries out too much.

A Difficult Situation.

The slide on the Dos Rios-Covelo road has been stopped for the time being and the road is open to travel but no one knows just what the final settlement of this problem will be. It is sure to start again when conditions are right and some permanent plan or control of the slide will have to be worked out.

Teacher Selected To Fill Vacancy

Mrs. Geraldine Grant has been selected to succeed Mrs. Ruth Beaufort, who recently tendered her resignation as English teacher at Ukiah high school to the board of trustees. Mrs. Grant has been a member of Hopland high school faculty for some time past and is very well qualified.

UNIONS INTEND INVASION OF COAST PLANTS

Situation Has Been Sized Up And Action Is Near

TROUBLE IN LAKE CO.

Prather Mill Closed When A Boost Of Pay Is Asked

Special Correspondence of The Press

FORT BRAGG, May 25.—News of a disturbing nature came to the coast last week coincident with the arrival of three labor representatives whose mission was to size up labor conditions and lay plans for unionizing the men in the mills and woods of Mendocino county.

To Begin Organizing.

Contacts were made with workers who have Union labor sympathies and the whole situation is now being studied. An open movement to unionize the workers will, undoubtedly, start within a short time.

What Situation Is.

Up to now the Unions have never been able to get any foothold in Mendocino county, although several attempts have been made. There does not appear to be any grievance entertained by any of the men against the Companies, but there is the usual desire, found in all sections, for pay increase and shorter hours. Both of these, it is asserted, have been promised by the men who plan undertaking the unionizing of the mills and woods crews.

Trouble In Lake County.

In Lake county last week a strike took place at the Prather Mill and little progress was made. The trouble is, however, not over, probably and renewal of the demands by the Union organizers will undoubtedly be made in a few days. Sheriff Taylor Day is being blamed by Unionists for what they term an abuse of his official power in handling the trio who went into Lake county to size up the Prather mill and who later induced the men to strike.

Is Not Concerned.

Sheriff Day declared he holds little concern over any investigation into his reported deportation of three Committee for Industrial Organization organizers from Contra Costa county who complained they had been "run out" of Lake county Thursday.

The three, Patrick Lyon, a CIO organizer; J. H. Stevens, organizer for the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, and Barney Anderline, vice-president of the Contra Costa County Trades and Labor Council, charged that when they visited Upper Lake with the intention of organizing the mill workers there, the sheriff ordered them out. They stated they will demand investigations by the attorney general and the National Labor Relations Board.

Arrival Followed Strike.

Sheriff Day revealed the arrival of three Contra Costans followed a strike called by about 12 of the 45 employes at the Prather Sawmill, located 12 miles north of Upper Lake.

Closed The Plant.

Sheriff Day said: "About a dozen of the men called a strike to enforce their demand for more pay. The mill owners shut down the mill the day before yesterday and the whole bunch is out of work.

Warned For Own Good.

"I advised the labor organizers (Lyon, Stevens and Anderline) to keep away from the vicinity of the mill for their own protection. It looked to me as if they were organizers for trouble. The people up there were waiting for them. If they got there they would have been in a hornets' nest. If they got on the mill property it just would have been too bad for them."

E. A. and Keith C. Eversole were in San Francisco several hours Friday.

SHOULD BE CAREFUL

WHILE THERE ARE NOT NEARLY so many rattlesnakes hereabouts as there were a few years ago, there are, nevertheless, plenty of them still and it behooves everyone to be careful when in the hills. A story, urging people to be on the lookout when in the country where rattlesnakes abound, reproduced below, can well be read and heeded by people here. The article was published in The Hanford Journal and goes on to say:

Not only has the prevailing warm wave sent Sierra streams raging but it also has brought out the rattlesnakes in great numbers in some localities of the foothills. So far no person has been reported bitten, although several dogs and horses have felt the sting of the reptiles' fangs.

It behooves mountain climbers and picnicking parties to be on their guard lest they encounter one of the dangerous crawlers at close quarters. To barge into one of them is to court trouble, possibly tragedy, for the lethal qualities of the rattler never have been over-emphasized.

Small children in particular should be guarded well while in snake infested regions. Youngsters suffer more excruciating pain and more often succumb to the poison when bitten than do adults. In the first place the flesh of the child is tender and permits deeper penetration of the sharp fangs and in the second place it receives just as much and perhaps more of the poison than the adult and has less resistance to it.

If one should be so unfortunate as to be bitten, his best chance of life is to keep a cool head—if possible. The wound should be thoroughly drained by incisions of a sharp knife and kept immersed in cold water or packed with mud. Many anglers and motorists nowadays pack antivenom preparations, some of which are said to be quite efficacious. Inoculation with any such "remedy' will probably do no harm, may do much good and at any rate will serve to keep the victim's mind hopeful and his heart action normal. Treatment by a competent physician at the earliest possible moment is essential.

Fortunately there are few heavily infested regions of the Sierras. Rattlesnakes are comparatively scarce, but now and then the mountain trekker does encounter one, in which case he must be prepared for any eventuality.

How about the old-time remedy, whiskey somebody asks? The answer is that the best authorities have declared it taboo for treatment, saying that taken internally it aggravates rather than relieves the ravages of the venom. In the absence of plenty of water it might do to wash out the wound.

GATE BRIDGE OPENS

(The Chico Enterprise)

AMONG THE MANY WONDERS of the world within the borders of California, another takes its place this week—a new, man-made colossus of steel and concrete that brings realization, at last, to a dream decades old.

It is the bridge across the Golden Gate, the greatest single suspension span in the world; and the bay cities, with the whole west participating, are observing its opening in a celebration appropriately immense. From May 27 to June 2 it lasts, with the U. S. battle fleet and its air squadron taking part, with colorful cavalcades from Canada and Mexico, with parades and pageants, regattas and speeches and ballroom festivities.

What a bridge this is!

Its towers of steel are the highest—746 feet, the tallest structures west of New York. Its sweeping cables, gracefully suspending a roadbed 246 feet above water, are the longest ever spun. In these two three-foot-thick cables, capable of supporting 430,000,000 pounds there are 80,000 miles of wire, or enough to encircle the globe more than three times.

For sheer size and majesty, it dwarfs such other engineering triumphs as the George Washington bridge across the Hudson, the Ambassador bridge at Detroit, and even the two suspension spans of its neighbor, the San Francisco bay bridge.

The rest of the world, outdone, looks on as the Golden Gate bridge opens. So do the men who wouldn't listen when experts said, "It can't be done," and perhaps looking on also are the ghosts of those dreamers who first envisioned such a bridge more than half a hundred years ago, and were laughed at for their dreams.

Truck Was Delayed.

The truck that is to carry Mendocino county's float was delayed a day in its progress toward the Golden Gate Bridge as it had to come from Weott, Humboldt county, and was not allowed across Rock Creek Bridge. A detour by Harris and Bell Springs finally brought it here, where it was loaded with greenery and materials and sent on its way yesterday morning to be decorated in San Francisco and made ready for the local exhibit. The truck belongs to John Pesula and is driven by one of his men.

Give Him Credit.

To Norman Buhn, state agricultural commissioner for this section, goes credit for the final beauty and assemblying of the Mendocino county entries. He has worked tirelessly on the project, starting many weeks ago to get a design for the float that would do justice to the county, and could be financially and practically worked out. Not only has he done much of the organization, but has gathered a great deal of the material for the decoration as well.

(By James Adam, Publicity Director)

Final plans for the dedication of the Golden Gate Bridge and its opening to traffic Friday, May 28, were announced last week.

What Is Planned.

Officials of the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta said that the colorful ceremonies that day would be witnessed by governors of many of the 11 western states, as well as official representatives of the Canadian and Mexican governments and other dignitaries from all parts of the United States.

To Make Address.

Francis V. Keesling, distinguished attorney and former director of the bridge district, will be the principal speaker of the day at the formal exercises which are to take place in Crissy Field at the Presidio.

A Great Day.

The bridge opening promises to be a red-letter day in the history of San Francisco and the Redwood Empire and the greatest crowd of visitors ever to come here is anticipated by Fiesta, Army and Traffic officials.

The Program's Start.

The first event in the day's program will be the dedication of the Waldo approach in Marin county when log-bucking champions of the Pacific coast will compete in sawing a huge redwood log barrier across the approach at the north bridge-head, following talks by notables. The Redwood Empire Association with Harry C. Ridgway as chairman is in charge of the Waldo approach program. When this log has been removed, the official party, headed by Governor Merriam and Mayor Rossi, will proceed to the north bridge tower, which marks the San Francisco-Marin county line, only to find their passage blocked by a second barrier, a chain of gold, silver and bronze.

To Cut Chain.

Mayor Rossi, William P. Filmer, president of the bridge district, and Frank P. Doyle, bridge director and treasurer of the Redwood Empire Association, will apply acetylene torches to the chain and sever it.

A Gate Of Flowers.

Passing then over the gigantic span, the party will be greeted at the Toll Plaza on the San Francisco side by a floral gate, composed of California's loveliest girls—the Queens of the Fiesta—from 19 counties, and beauties from adjoining states.

To Deliver Bridge.

Here, Joseph B. Strauss, chief engineer, will formally turn over the completed bridge to President Filmer as the floral gate opens and breaks the last barrier of the span. These ceremonies will be broadcast to the nation just at the moment that a massed flight of 500 navy airplanes, coming from the navy's great aircraft carriers and battleships at sea, soar overhead.

To Open Span.

After this, the official party will journey to Crissy Field where the formal bridge opening ceremonies will be held, with Supervisor Arthur M. Brown, Jr., general chairman of the Fiesta, presiding. At noon, as sirens scream and cannon boom, the bridge will be opened to traffic simultaneously on both the San Francisco and Marin sides.

To Handle Traffic.

Arrangements for handling the great traffic, which is expected to flow over the bridge the opening day, are being worked out by Police Captain Charles Goff of the police traffic squad, Chief E. Raymond Cato of the State Highway Patrol, and Lieut. Col. H. R. Oldfield of the Army.

Remember This.

The Marina approach to the bridge will be used as an on-ramp only this day and during the Fiesta, while the Lyon street outlet will be used as an off-ramp exclusively.

Ticket Demand Large.

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, who is a director of the State Board of Prisons of California.

MAN WHO MADE GOOD—AND LOST

His narrative said he did not have any education. Even had I not noticed this, as I glanced through the story of his tragic career, I would have divined it. He was 63 years of age. He had been in Folsom 21 years for carrying out one of the man-made "squarings of a wrong" that is a tradition in his homeland, Mexico. He had lain in wait for an enemy of his on a lonely road in Kern county and, when his foe drove by in a buggy, accompanied by his wife and two small children, my friend, the murderer, killed the husband, seriously shot the wife and, in permitting the horse to run away, endangered the lives of the two small children, in the rig, who happily were saved when thrown out, sustaining only minor injuries and bruises.

For this crime Trinidad Gonzales was, and properly, convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to life imprisonment. This sentence, it seems to me, was the only break Trinidad Gonzales ever got in his life. He was an illiterate Mexican-Indian. He came from the mountains near San Juan de Los Huertas, a remote country off toward the coast below Mexico City. He started on his annihilation excursion because he believed the man he killed had broken up the family of his best friend, but his affection prevented him saying anything about the cause of his killing, he being fearful he might involve the friend he was so fond of. He was at Folsom 21 years, as I have said. In all of that time he did not have one mark against him. His good conduct won him a chance to go to the road camp and there his industry and good behavior kept him so long a time he earned more than $800—accumulated on an allowance of 30 cents a day. Years dragged on and, at last, there came an hour when society, satisfied it had its pound of flesh, decreed Trinidad Gonzales should be deported and sent back to the Land of the Montezumas. The prison authorities took up the case with the Mexican Consul at San Francisco and got him to make arrangements for the prisoner's return to Mexico. Trinidad Gonzales was rigged out in prison-made clothes, given his gate money and handed a prison check for the $800 he had earned in the prison road camp. At sunset one eve he walked out of the gates at Folsom, passed on into the driveway, turned about, made the sign of the cross and faced his new existence. I believe he blessed himself, hoping, in his confiding mind, he would have good luck—the tragic ending of his trip, I hope, has not disillusioned Trinidad Gonzales, but I am sure it has tried his poor soul. Getting to San Francisco it was discovered the ex-convict had lost his check for $800. The ticket to Mexico had to be used and he was started off to manana land, a deported criminal, broke.

The size of the check makes it necessary to give a bond in order that the state may issue another and, accordingly, it is going to take a long time, after he has satisfied American justice, unless the check is found and returned, before Trinidad Gonsales comes into possession of the sum he worked so hard to pile up at 30 cents a day.

My religion gets all cock-eyed when I try to reason out why such distressing developments must arise—why it is some people get so much affliction while others are showered with so much affluence?

SOCIAL AND CLUB EVENTS

CONCERT BY UKIAH CHORAL CLUB THIS EVENING

A lovely musical program will be presented by Ukiah Choral Club at the high school auditorium at 8:15 this evening; under direction of Robert L. Sharp, with varied selections rendered by 45 members of the group in their second concert, and solo numbers by Joel Carter, splendid vocalist of Berkeley, who will be accompanied by his teacher, Robert Everhart. For the purpose of defraying costs of the concert and building up a library for the club, a small admission charge will be made. The following selections have been chosen for the program: Group One "Invictus" by Huhn, "Lullaby" by Brahms, "I Dream of Jeanie" by Foster, "Morning" by Speaks; Group Two, Negro spirituals, "Oh Mary, Don't You Weep," "Go Down, Moses," and "Listen To The Lambs" arrangement by Dett; Group Three, "Shadow March" by Proteroe, "Allah's Holiday" by Friml, "Finlandia" by Sibelius, and "Ave Marie" by Arcadelt.

Mr. Sharp is delighted Mr. Carter has consented to sing on the program. The two were schoolmates at San Jose State College and Modesto Junior College and sang together in the Presbyterian church of Modesto, Mr. Carter as bass soloist and Mr. Sharp as tenor. Robert Everhart, Mr. Carter's teacher and accompanist, also taught Mr. Sharp and secured a year's scholarship for him while he was studying music. He is a pupil of Prochowski, noted authority on vocal culture, and with whom Mr. Carter also has had opportunity to study during the summer months. The talented guest artist is very entertaining, has a pleasing personality and unusual dramatic ability, often including readings in his selections. There is a possibility he will do so this evening, though it is not known what numbers he has chosen to present.

COMEDY-MYSTERY IS POTTER HIGH PLAY TONIGHT

The Potter Valley high school is presenting "Demon In The Dark," a spine-chilling mystery-comedy in the Potter Valley elementary school this evening at eight o'clock. The scene is laid in a lodge on White Owl Island. Lookout Lodge was once owned by that daring pirate Jean Lafitte and is said to be haunted by his ghost and others. The present caretakers, Janet and Duncan McTavish, claim there are three ghosts which prowl about the Lodge—the bloated corpse of Uriah Coffin, the Mad Creole, and the Crawling Hand. Delightfully frightful are the experiences of Sondra Trevor and her friends who come to White Owl Island to pass their vacation. Sondra's ex-fiance, who refuses to be dismissed, and a present suitor figure in the proceedings. One of these is the villain and author of the terrors.

The characters are: Duncan McTavish, caretaker of Lookout Lodge, Edison Kinman; Jane McTavish, his wife, Mary March; Mary McTavish, his crippled daughter, Clora Davis; Sondra Trevor and Ethelind Trevor, sisters and co-owners of Lookout Lodge, Gladys Hardisty and Mary Jones; Bob Hildreth, Sondra's ex-fiance, Ralph Whittaker; Deryk Vorse, a wealthy suitor, Rodney Briggs; Lizzie Scruggs, the housekeeper, Beth Newman; Dido, the darky cook, Urla Frost; Juniper, the darky chauffeur, Elbert Busch; The Demon, Harold Hopper.

Chapter 5—Wedding History

Engraved Wedding Bands

Within a generation the plain gold band, after enjoying many years of popularty, has yielded to the attractiveness of rings engraved with floral and other emblematic designs. Myrtle, lilies of the valley, orange blossoms, arbutus and other flowers usually associated with weddings, supply the motifs. The ring may be either of gold or platinum, and many made of the latter metal are set all around with diamonds instead of bearing an engraved design. Only by seeing examples of the ancient rings of iron, the rings that had the keys attached, and like monstrosities of former times can the jeweler fully appreciate the loveliness of the delicately beautiful creations which he offers to the 1937 bride-to-be.

The wedding ring is worn on the fourth finger of the left hand. Why? Because it was once believed that a vein in that finger led directly to the heart. There was also an era when the stylish ladies of England wore their wedding rings on their thumbs, and these may be seen in old portraits, the rings being set, in most cases, with large gems.

While the ring is merely slipped onto the bride's finger at an appropriate point in the wedding ceremony of today, in ancient times among the Anglo-Saxons the groom would put the ring on each of the fingers of the bride's left hand, saying, at the thumb, "In the name of the Father;" at the second, "In the name of the Son;" at the third, "In the name of the Holy Ghost," and then he placed it on the fourth finger, merely saying "Amen," concluding the ceremony.

People are requested not to fondle or pet a fawn as sometimes the mother will smell the human odor and refuse to have anything more to do with the young animal, which may be left to die in the hills. Many people think it is fine to have a fawn for a pet, but when the animal grows older it becomes a nuisance around a ranch and then it is hard to get rid of.

A New Threat

to divert gas tax funds

A NEW BILL is pending in the California Assembly to give the State Highway Department authority to divert gasoline tax maintenance funds from normal highway upkeep to a few big toll bridges.

It is Assembly Bill No. 2124, known as the Dannenbrink Bill.

This bill will make operating costs of toll bridges a legal charge against the gasoline tax maintenance fund.

Aimed at reduction of tolls, it is merely a screen behind which the costs of collecting the tolls and other operating expenses will be paid from gasoline tax funds. Thus the bridges which were built to be self-supporting will be State-subsidized . . . at the expense of gasoline tax payers instead of bridge users.

Of course the bridge users want lower tolls . . . but why should millions of dollars be concentrated in operating these few toll bridges at the expense of needed highway improvements?

The Highway Maintenance Fund was originally set aside for use on roads in ALL counties of the State!

Don't let this bill be the first break in diverting this fund

POULTRYMEN WILL GET AID

Chain Stores Promise To Sell The Egg Surplus

California hens apparently have learned of the current public interest in the consumer. They are going right ahead producing a $22,000,000 annual crop of eggs regardless of the poultry producers who are feeding them, laying for the benefit of the housewife rather than for profit to the boss of the poultry ranch.

Eggs Selling Low.

There is, today, a surplus of 1,369,000 cases of eggs over last year. Retail prices of eggs are low in comparison with other foods. Feed prices have jumped from 50 to 100 per cent in the past year. Poultrymen are facing a critical situation. "We must increase the consumption of eggs throughout the United States," said John Lawlor of the Poultry Producers of Central California, "or this important industry will sustain a serious setback. If the present supply of eggs is not consumed, the poultrymen will naturally dispose of their hens. This can be done in a comparatively short space of time. Eggs are not like California orchard crops, which are fairly permanent. If we curtail the production of eggs the supply will be short and prices, naturally, will then go up. That works to the disadvantage of the consumer. So, in a general way, we may say the more eggs we eat the cheaper they will be."

William Maxwell Died Suddenly

Wm. H. Maxwell, an employe of the State Hospital, dropped dead Monday morning in the club room as he was preparing to go to work. Mr. Maxwell was a former San Francisco advertising man and has a daughter, a practicing attorney in San Francisco. The dead man had been at the hospital several years and was universally liked by his fellow workers.

HANDLING TRAFFIC

Captain Austin Rawles and Officer Charles Ciancio have been selected to act in San Francisco as traffic officers during the Fiesta and will go to the city with the Oregon Cavalcade tonight.

To Give Aid.

Having been informed of the present problem of the Pacific Coast poultry producers, John A. Logan, executive vice-president of the National Association of Food Chains, has issued a bulletin to 37,000 retail food stores in his organization. He says: "We propose to co-operate with producers by reducing the spread of eggs, wherever possible, in order to increase consumption; especially on the best grade eggs. We shall also offer through newspaper advertising, radio programs and store displays new ideas for the use of eggs."

The promise of the National Association of Food Chains to work for a reduction of the margin in the eastern markets is regarded as one of the most favorable indications of an improvement in the present egg situation.

Anderson Valleyites Want Office Open Longer Hours

Special Correspondence of The Press

ANDERSON VALLEY, May 25. Dick McAbee, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen McAbee, had the misfortune to fall from a tree a few days ago and break his left arm near the shoulder. It was set by Dr. G. K. Abbott, of Ukiah. Kay Hiatt, young son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hiatt, of Yorkville, also sustained a broken arm recently while cranking a car.

Complain Of Service.

There is a good deal of dissatisfaction here over the hours of service given by the local Telephone office and it is reported local organizations are planning to take action to secure better service. Residents have no fault to find with the manager of the local exchange, but with the Telephone company, which closes the office from 9 p. m. to 8 a. m. week days with only two hours service from 8 to 10 Sunday morning. Most of the patrons here are ranchers who are off to their work hours before the office opens and who lose a good part of their morning when they have to wait around to place a call and calls from the outside find most people away at that late hour and have to wait until noon to make connections.

Go To Cloverdale.

A number of emergency calls have been put through Cloverdale to patrons on their farmers line and they have driven in to deliver the message here. The subscribers in this section feel the volume of business passing through this office entitles them to better service and they are going to make an effort to obtain it.

FIESTA CROWDS EXCEED

in line beneath the Golden Gate Bridge, of the entire United States fleet, 150 war vessels now engaged in maneuvers off Hawaii; presentation by a cast of 2000 of a dramatic pageant of San Francisco in which famed baritone John Charles Thomas, opera star, will sing the leading role and for which a symphonic orchestra will render a score written for the pageant by Composer Charles Hart, three day and one night illuminated parade, in each of which more than 60 striking floats and 75 bands representing Canada and Mexico, the Great Redwood Empire and Southern California and five western American states will take part.

The Huge Theatre.

Center of Fiesta spectacles and activiites will be the Redwood Grove Theater, a mammoth ampitheater erected in Crissy Field with the largest and most novel stage ever built and a grandstand capable of seating 25,000 spectators in comfort.

To Tell The Story.

On this stage will be presented the pageant, in a series of eight, colorful, animated episodes, unfolding on the stage like an illuminated scroll, San Francisco's and California's dramatic history brought to life. Across this stage will march, brightly costumed and to the music of many bands, cavalcades of life and color sent to the Fiesta by Canada and Mexico and western states. Most brilliant, it is expected, of the cavalcades will be that from northern California, the Redwood Empire, with Washington and Oregon and British Columbia contending with it for the blue ribbon of supremacy.

All Nations Celebrate.

All during the Fiesta San Francisco's festive streets will be thronged by the half-hundred nationalities comprising its population, dressed in festive garb.

You'll Have A Good Time.

The city's famous foreign colonies, Chinatown, the North Beach and Russian Hill and others, will be transformed into vistas of gay oolor. The city's streets down town and along the three-mile route of the parade march will seem like lanes in a Redwood grove. Every district, every section of San Francisco's population, is going to town with a bang for this Fiesta, greatest of any celebration in the long history of famed San Francisco shows.

HERE FOR SUMMER

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Porter have as their guest Mrs. Porter's brother, O. H. Rhodenbaugh, who arrived here Saturday from his home in Lamar, Colorado.
